A black and white manga-style illustration. A young girl with short hair, wearing a light-colored top and a dark skirt, is jumping high into the air with her arms outstretched. She has a wide, happy expression. In the background, there is a large, ornate circular window with a radial pattern. Below her, several other people are visible, including a man in a striped shirt and another person in a dark coat. The scene is set in what appears to be a shop or a public building with intricate architectural details.
